IT MAY BE THE BEST EVER.

Breckenridge County Teachers' Institute is Now in Session.

Harding, Ky., June 27.—(Special.)—The Breckenridge county teachers' institute convened here Monday morning at the court house. An organization was effected, with Joel H. Pile as chairman and Miss Lena Mattingly as secretary. An even hundred teachers were enrolled, the best attendance ever had on the first day of an institute. Then Prof. Charles A. Evans made a splendid introductory address, outlining the work of the county board of education for the last year and made a splendid impression on teachers and laymen alike.

The session this week gives every promise of being the best ever heard.

Captain W. S. Graham, 1321 Eoff St., Wheeling, W. Va., writing June 14, '04, says: "I am so grateful I want to thank God that a friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment to me. I suffered for a long time with sores on my face and back. Some doctors said I had blood poison, and others that I had barbers' itch. None of them did me any good, but they all took my money. My friends tell me my skin now looks as clear as a baby's, and I tell them all that Cuticura Soap and Ointment did it."

The Goebel Monument Commission, at a meeting at Frankfurt last week, accepted a model for the Goebel statue from plaster casts submitted by Sculptor C. H. Niehaus, of New York city. The sculptor was unable to be present because of illness, and Mrs. Niehaus displayed the three models which he had executed, to the commission. The design selected is a life-size figure standing, with the left hand resting on a table and the right arm extended almost full length. The sculptor will begin at once making the bronze cast.

THOUGHTS.

"I wish to see in the average American citizen the development of the two sets of qualities, which we can roughly indicate as sweetness and strength—the qualities on the one hand, which will make the man able to hold his own, and those which, on the other hand, make him jealous of the rights of others just as much as for his own rights."—Theodore Roosevelt.

If you want to feel twenty years younger and get in touch with youth just give a house party.

NEXT Tuesday is the Fourth of July. But it is needless for us to remind you of that fact. Nobe Pate has already done that. His barbecue at Hardinsburg on that day will be the greatest on earth. Nobe believes in advertising and we see where he is right.

DR. J. W. GARDNER, of Madisonville, is visiting his mother, at Hardinsburg, this week. Dr. Gardner says the people of his town and community are very enthusiastic over the prospect for a railroad from their town to Cloverport. He says they think it is a sure-go and that work will begin very soon. A Pennsylvania syndicate, he says, is back of it.

It is understood that the Republican committee, at their meeting Monday, indorsed or recommended the following men for the various county offices: For representative, Hon. John P. Haswell, Jr.; for county judge, Morris Eskridge; for county court clerk, Hon. R. M. Jolly; for sheriff, Sherman Ball; for county attorney, Allen R. Kinchloe; for jailor, W. J. Hall; for superintendent public schools, Andrew Driskell. In this list there is only one regularly announced candidate, Mr. Hall of Rockvale. If the convention ratifies the action of the committee, then it is up to the men as to whether they will accept. The gentlemen named will have a month, so will the voters. If the voters among the rank and file of the Republican party in the county have any good reasons why this ticket, suggested by the committee, should not be named, let them speak out now or forever hold their peace. If there are any other men in the county more competent, better qualified or in any way better suited for any of the offices, it is your duty as a good citizen and a Republican to speak out. The Democrats have named their ticket. You know the men, you know what character of men they are and you know whether, as Republicans, you can vote for them. The Republican party in this county holds the balance of power. It is with them as to who will serve us the next four years. If men are nominated satisfactory to the whole party they can be elected. Any Republican who has a suggestion to make on the action of the committee should speak out now. We don't suppose any of the men named by the committee are running after the nomination. They know there is a hard fight ahead. They know what kind of a fight they have to make and they are not breaking their necks to get into it. They would like to know, we presume, before they go in whether they will have the united support of their party, and it is due them that they should. Our columns are open for any suggestions.

THE HOME AND THE SCHOOL.

THE SCHOOL should be an extension of the home. The same spirit should control both. Both should be conducted with an eye single to the permanent well-being of the children committed to their care; and that is, of course, almost solely a matter of character, in its broadest sense. Character comprehends, very broadly, body, mind and spirit. The old narrow, conventional view of the subject no longer prevails. It need hardly be said that the problem is essentially the same, too, whether the school be public, private or parochial, and remains the same through primary and secondary education; the student succeeding to the parent in the latter stages of training, with himself as his charge.

The national Daily Review is strongly of the opinion that the home should earnestly and constantly uphold the school. The parents should loyally support the school authorities, directors, superintendents, principals and teachers. The child at home should hear nothing but praise of the teacher. His administration should not be criticised, but should be praised for whatever good points it may possess. The excellence of the school and the value of its opportunities cannot be spoken of too often. The home in which the school and the teacher are always "popular" is very fortunate indeed. Enthusiasm for and about the school helps both the school and the home.

Not less than once each term, the parents, one or better both, should visit the school and get in touch with its work. The visit should be made quietly and unobtrusively, so as to be a help and not a hindrance to the teacher's work and the pupil's progress. The teacher should be given a word of appreciation and encouragement. Out of school hours, there should be frank and friendly conferences between parent and teacher. This brings the home and the school into vital and friendly relations.

You cannot do too much to advance the permanent interests of your children; and in no direction can you accomplish more for them or with less effort than by co-operating with their teachers.—Daily Review, Chicago.

"FOUND"

Odd Notice in Prominent Southern Paper of Interest to Cloverport Residents.

One of the best known newspapers in the South is the "Guide" of Dunn, N. C. Its publisher, J. P. Pittman, sends us the clipping with request to publish:

"Found,—by the editor of the Guide, a bottle of Hyomei, the wonderful treatment that cures catarrh without stomach dosing. We can speak in highest praise of its remarkable power to cure and relieve catarrh of the head and throat. This mention is made not as an advertisement, but in the interest of those who suffer the torture of that terrible disease, catarrh."

In sending the clipping, Mr. Pittman wrote the following letter:

"I enclose a little piece from my paper, issued 19-day. You will see from this that I desire to push the selling of Hyomei as far as possible. I am using it in my own family, and find that it gives the desired relief, so that I take pleasure in spreading far and near the knowledge of this sure relief for catarrh."

Short & Haynes, in preparation for the catarrhal troubles of this season of the year, have ordered a large stock of Hyomei, and sell it under guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. The complete outfit costs but $1, and extra bottles can be obtained for 50 cents. Ask them to show you the strong guarantee under which they sell it. This remarkable remedy medicates the air you breathe, soothing and healing the mucous membrane of the air passages, and making a complete cure of the worst case of catarrh.

A Cabbage Snake Story.

Pateville, Ky., June 27.—(Spec.)—The cabbage snake has proved not to be a fake, as one was found by the family of J. M. Fawer last Sunday while eating dinner. The cabbage had been thoroughly picked over, leaf by leaf, and washed but no snake was found until after being cooked and eaten by some of the family. The snake was wound in a knot and when stretched out was about two or three inches in length and about the size of thread No. 40 and color of the cooked cabbage. The health of the family has not been affected by eating the cabbage.

BELETED FRENCHMAN

Strikes Cloverport Without Money
And With Little Knowledge of English Language.

LOST ON WAY FROM FLORIDA.

West-bound passenger train number 41 rolled into the station Wednesday morning at 10:30 and unloaded its passengers, and put on its way to St. Louis. There was nothing particularly strange about the train. It was all right. But if you had been at the station the blank, harassed expression on the face of one of the unloaded passengers would have at once attracted your attention. This gentleman passenger was a Frenchman from Paris. He stepped up to a bystander and began to say something. His auditor was dazed and moved politely as he could to the rear. The Frenchman approached another gentleman addressing him with a choked flow of broken English. This gentleman caught a word or two and directed him down the street. The gentleman from Paris walked on a few blocks, but feeling a little perplexed, stopped at W. H. Bowser's residence. As near as he could, the Frenchman related his troubles in English. Mr. Bowser seeing that the gentleman knew more about the French language than the English, called a French-speaking lady, to whom the Frenchman told his story. Nine months ago he came to Florida to do some freighting and painting for a contractor. Having completed his work in Florida, the contractor started him to "Rock Haven," which seems to be a French name about nine miles from Dixon, Ky. The painter got to Louisville, after going through a series of continuous mistakes. Here he asked the ticket agent for a ticket to "Rock Haven," received one to Rock Haven, in Meade county. At the first glimpse at this place he discovered he had made an error and paid the conductor about the last cent he had to take him to a place where French was spoken. The conductor brought him to Cloverport, where he found a good shepherd. This good shepherd gave the beleted Frenchman his dinner, bought a ticket and forwarded him on to his destination.

The Salve that Penetrates.

DeWitt's "Witch Hazel Salve" penetrates the pores of the skin, and by its antiseptic, rubefacient and healing influence it soothes inflammation and cures Boils, Cuts, Eczema, Tetter, Ring Worm, all skin diseases. A specific for blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles. The original and genuine "Witch Hazel Salve" is made by E. C. DeWitt & Co., and sold by All Druggists.

Twenty-Six Room Cottage at Tar Springs.

Last year Cloverport had dreams of a grand hotel which was to be constructed at Tar Springs, but this was only a dream. Now a real summer cottage is being built. The side walls have already gone up and the building will be ready for occupancy in a few weeks. Mr. Halliday, the manager, hopes to restore this once-famous place to the rank it held back in the '90s.

No Shows on Sunday at Tell City.

Tell City is setting a pace for Southern Indiana towns for morality and principle. River shows, always used to make Tell City on Sunday night to get a crowd. Now the city refuses to license or permit any thing of the kind. Let us not be backward in the proper observance of the Lord's day.—Grandview Monitor.

"Butch" Sawyer's Ingenuity.

Cap. "Butch" Sawyer began to think about building boats to sail in the peatling brooks when he ran about the streets of Cloverport in knee-pants. The first crabs he ran spotted from one side to the other and often sank for want of proper construction. This of course displeased Cap. "Butch" and he began to study the cause and remedied it by turning his school teacher had difficulty in persuading him to stop thinking of boats and turn his mental faculties to the study of arithmetic. But Cap. "Butch" thought about boats. When his little knee-pants got too small for him he let the trucks out and walked down the streets the next day a man in trousers supported by his first suspenders. At this time he turned his mental ability to the study of the wall paper business and has since been connected with it.

Up until a few years ago his boat building instinct had rested quietly, but five years ago it sprang up and he built for himself a pleasure launch. A cousin from another port came along and noticed the completeness of this craft and offered Cap. "Butch" an enormous price, which the captain accepted. Since then he has built quite a number of boats, mainly with his own hands, and sold them at like profits. Now he owns the largest boat that trails from this port and is building a large coal barge for mental recreation.

Hardin-Bell Wedding.

Elizabethtown, Ky., June 22.—Mr. Henry Hardin and Miss Maggie Bell were married to-night, 9 o'clock at the residence of her mother, Mrs. W. F. Bell, by the Rev. M. M. Beaton, of Louisville.

Mr. Hardin's home was originally at Big Spring.

Much Tobacco Received.

Many loads of tobacco were in the city yesterday. The hands at the Equity houses were kept busy receiving the weed the greater portion of the day.

The best market for the last few weeks at the auction house was that of yesterday. The grade of tobacco offered for sale was a variety for which a fair price was paid, considering the condition and quality.—Friday's Owensboro Messenger.

Trust Those Who Have Tried.

I suffered from catarrh of the worst kind and never hoped for cure, but Ely's Cream Balm seems to do even that.—Oscar Ostroff, 45 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The Balm does not irritate or cause sneezing as do the deodorants, 25 cts. or mailed by Ely Brothers, 36 Warren St., New York.

There Was No Answer.

Some years ago a question was under discussion in parliament as to the need of having county court judges in Wales who could speak the Welsh language. Some of the English members contended that there was not the slightest necessity for it. An English speaking judge would in all cases do exactly as well as a native, they said. Mr. Abraham, a Welsh member, bearing this in mind, said to his friend: "Very well," said he, "let us consider the matter. Here we are in the county courthouse at Ystradgynnydd, I'm the plaintiff. The attorney general is the county court judge. He, in the course of the case, asks me if I am prepared to swear that the boots delivered to the defendant for the service of the writ, were rights and lefts, or both lefts, as the defendant alleges."

"That is a delicate question which I, with my partial knowledge of English, do not trust myself to answer except in my native tongue. Therefore I say: 'Cymeru daudwrch, ar gwaeddau clawd llywodraethu, i'r ddydd ymlych dwy hafodol lech wedyd Ysgrtyt.'"

"Now," he thundered, while the house held its breath and a cloud of confusion reigned above the face of the disturbed but very attentive attorney general, "what does the honorable and learned gentleman for the defense have to say to this?"

The honorable and learned gentleman had no further objection to make.

Revolting Burial Customs.

Of Tibetan burial customs, including the devouring of the corpse by dogs and vultures, Edward Carder, the author of "The Travelling of Laws," writes: "When a Tibetan dies he is left three days in his chamber, and a pit is made in his skull to let his soul pass out. Then he is rolled into a ball, wrapped in a sack or silk if he is rich, packed into a jar or basket and carried along to the music of conch shells to the ceremonial stone. Here a lama takes the corpse out of its vessel and wraps it and lays it face downward on a large flat slab, and the pensioners (dog and vulture) growl or howl round waiting for their dole."

A Doctor's Dilemma.

Among the papers of R. H. Stoddard that Ripley Hitchcock edited there is a letter which Oliver Wendell Holmes, the poet physician, is said to have received. This letter was written many years ago by an ignorant country practitioner and it is interesting because it shows the low level to which, in the early part of the last century, it was possible for medical education to fall.

Engin Fourteen Jumps Track.

West-bound passenger train on the Henderson Route, due here at 10:30 a. m., was held at the shops three hours and twenty minutes Wednesday on account of engine No. 14 of the work train jumping the track at Lillard's station, just below the rock quarry. The wrecking crew at the shops was hurried to the scene but the engine got off the track in such a peculiar manner that it was very difficult to get on the rail again.

First Load of New Wheat

In Davies Brings 85 Cents.

The first load of new wheat to be offered on the local market was brought to town yesterday by Ben Tichenor, of the Pleasant Valley neighborhood. It was of good quality and was sold to the "Brandford" mill for eighty-five cents a bushel. Mr. Tichenor produced 183 bushels on seven acres of ground.

Threshing has begun in several sections of the county and will be in full blast in a few days.—Thursday's Owensboro Messenger.

Slip Trees Bring $10 Each.

Even very slim trees nowadays bring as much as $10 each. Wm. Ashby, proprietor of Highland Nursery, below town, sold twenty-one ordinary trees of his place several days ago and received a check amounting to $210 for them, while another man in this neighborhood came to town with a check amounting a neat sum that he had received for a lot of trees sold $20 each. $100 per acre was recently paid in Davies county for the timber upon a certain tract of land.

Crops in Tobacco All Right.

Mr. Carey Whitehead, a progressive farmer and dealer, was over from Tobaccoport, Ind., Thursday and speaking of that place said: "All of our crops are in and looking fine. Recent rains and winds have done no damage except blowing down a few trees. One thing about us Tobaccoporters is that we have no idle tracts of land. Every tillable strip has been planted this year and we are all hoping for a big harvest from all the crops."

Sad Bereavement.

Central Methodist.

Dear Brother Bates: Three of my daughters—Hallie, aged twenty-four; Mattie, fifteen; and Fanny, thirteen—were drowned while bathing in the Ohio river at Bates's Landing, Ky., about sixty miles below Louisville, on Wednesday afternoon, June 14. Blessed be God, we "sorrow not" for we know that they have joined their sainted mother and happy sister, who have gone on before.

"Kindly is the lesson given: Then dry the falling tear. They came to raise our hearts to heaven."

Then go to call to these." They were consistent Christians. I never knew either of them to do a willful wrong act.

We ask the prayers of God's people for sustaining grace. Your brother in Christ, GALT W. BOUTH.

Lewinsworth, Ind., June 16, 1905.

The above note from Bro. G. W. Bouth should appear to all our readers. To lose three loving, promising daughters in one brief afternoon is indeed a severe trial of one of a faith in God's mercy and goodness; but Bro. Bouth relies upon His promise still and blesses Him even in his sorrow. May the Lord give him sustaining grace. THE EDITOR.

What Pension Report Shows.

Major A. T. Wood, Pension Examiner for Kentucky, is making out his annual report for the year. The report will show that twenty-five widows still receive pensions for the war of 1812. There are no survivors in that war, and the widows receive each $8 a month. For the Indian war there were three survivors and twenty widows receive pensions. There are 216 survivors of the Mexican war in Kentucky who receive pensions, and 407 widows.

The Civil war has the largest list to its credit, there being 5,669 survivors and 2,646 widows who receive pensions.

For service in the Spanish-American war 428 receive pensions, and 211 widows. About $1,000,000 is distributed annually through the Louisville office in pensions.

To Run Ice Car on Main Line.

A. L. Fort, manager of the ice plant here, says that the company will put an ice car on the road the first of next week. The car will be attached to the local freight train as No. 61 and make the way stations on the main line, supplying them direct from the car. A car doing a similar business was run over the road last year out of Owensboro.

THE SLOW PACED LORIS.

This Animal Is the Slowest Moving Mammal in Existence.

Scientists say that the slowest moving mammal in existence is the slow paced loris, an animal more or less closely allied to the monkey. Its technical name is "Nycticebus tardigradus," the last part of which might be translated "lazy footed." One of them when timed took exactly thirty-two minutes and three seconds in moving across a space of four feet toward a perch that it was endeavoring to capture. The animal belonged to an Asiatic genus that extends from Java and Sumatra and Borneo and inhabits possibly some of the Philippine Islands, through parts of Hindustan. When its progress was timed it advanced "with ten or twelve inches of its quarry, reared up on its hands, drew its hind feet gradually forward until almost under its breast, very slowly and cautiously raised itself upright into a standing position, balancing awkwardly with uplifted arms, and then threw itself bodily—not upon the insect, which was like an arrow from a Tartar's bow, but upon the spot the roach had occupied half a second before."

In this species the different parts of the hands and feet are so divided as to form two lobes, resembling in shape and in function those of the chameleon. The animal creeps very slowly toward its prey, making a curve of one of its supporting limb or branch with the slow, mechanical movements remind one of the lizard, while the insect feeding habits of both are identical except that the chameleon hunts by day and the loris by night. The latter even possesses a second auxiliary tongue, which can have no other purpose than to aid the main tongue in catching its prey. As to the development of such a member assists the insect catching lizard.

A very curious formation, consisting of an arrangement of the blood-vessels, called by recent physiologists "the wonderful network" (rete mirabile), belongs to all species of slow loris. The blood instead of being supplied with arteries and with veins, are furnished with two series of blood vessels lying closely parallel to each other. One series is of hairlike texture and the other is of a more solid nature, joined to the first by short, tubular projections. These give great muscular power in executing very deliberate, gradual, almost imperceptible, motion continued for a long time.

In After Years.

"Women are constantly changeable creatures," said the weary looking man.

"What's the explanation?" asked the friend of the man.

"During our honeymoon," answered the weary party, "my wife declared she could not live a day without me."

"Well," queried the family friend, "Only last week," continued the other, "she tried to get me to insure my life for $10,000 in her favor."—Chicago News.

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones
It Is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick.
Her sympathy is deeper than that of any other member of the family.
The mothers look forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of their children and the many liabilities to disease that are before them.
Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.
It does not take a mother very long to discover that Peru-na is the best friend she has in times of illness among the children.
The doctors may come and go with their different theories and constant change of remedies.
The doctor of years ago gave entirely different remedies than he does today.
Each year finds some change in his prescriptions and in the drugs he relies upon.

A Multitude of Mothers

Have discovered that Peru-na is the stand-by, and that in all the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Peru-na is the remedy that will most quickly relieve.
Whether it is spring fever or stomach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause.

Peru-na quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine, it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body.
It simply removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Peru-na is not a physic. Peru-na is not a narcotic, Peru-na does not produce any drug habit, however long it may be taken. Peru-na is not a stimulant.
Peru-na is a specific remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Peru-na has. The Mothers Hold Peru-na in High Esteem.

Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it always rescues the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.
We have in our files hundreds of testimonials from mothers whose children have been cured by Peru-na. However, the large majority of mothers who use Peru-na, we never hear from.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at some special good they have received from Peru-na that they cannot restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.

MRS. THERESA ROOKE
MOTHER and CHILD

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Peru-na Can Never Be Put Into Words.

The chronic ailments it has prevented, the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.
But at least this much can be said that the coming generation owes a great debt to Peru-na, for it is in the tender years of youth that slight ailments are liable to develop into lasting disease, thus blighting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children today to believe in Peru-na are doing a great work for humanity.
These children brought up to believe in Peru-na from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Peru-na with unquestioning faith.

Peru-na Protects the Entire Household.

As soon as the value of Peru-na is appreciated by every household, both as a preventive and cure, tens of thousands of lives will be saved, and hundreds of thousands of chronic, lingering cases of catarrh will be prevented.

Mrs. Thresa Rooke, 238 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill., Treasurer Ladies' of the Macabees, writes:

"In our home Peru-na is the only medicine we have. Grandmother, mother, father and child, all have used Peru-na. It is our great remedy for catarrh of the stomach and head, colds, and female complaints of which it has cured me. 'We find it of great value when my husband becomes worn out or catches cold. A couple of doses cure him.'"

"If the baby has colic, or any stomach disorders, a dose or two cures her. 'I consider Peru-na finer than any doctor's medicine that I have ever tried, and I know that as long as we have it in the house, we will all be able to keep in good health.'—Thresa Rooke.

No Doctor Required.

Mr. Edward Otto, 527 De Soto street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"I cannot say enough for Peru-na. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctors with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do him any good."

"We gave up hopes of cure, and so did they, but we pulled him through on Peru-na."

"We had several doctors and they said they could do no more for him so we tried Peru-na as a last resort, and that did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required."—Edward Otto.

Peru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peru-na has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peru-na is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peru-na does not produce temporary results. Its permanent in its effect.
It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

There are a multitude of homes where Peru-na has been used off and on for twenty years.
Such a thing could not be possible if Peru-na contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

Mr. G. H. Farmer, New Martinsville, W. Va., writes:

"Our little son, Harry, is well and healthy now and we think if we do as you directed us, he will keep his health and grow strong."

"We know that our little son's life was saved by your wonderful medicine, Peru-na, and we shall always praise Peru-na and use it in our family when needed."

"Should we have any more catarrhal trouble in our family, we shall always write to you for treatment."—G. H. Farmer.

Mr. Howard Andrew Sterner, Muddy Creek, Pa., writes:

"I have Peru-na in my house all the time and won't be without it. It is good for children when they take a cold or croup. It cured my baby boy of croup. 'I have introduced Peru-na into six families since I received your last letter, and four have seen relief already.'—Howard Andrew Sterner.

Peru-na Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Peru-na should be kept in the house all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick, then send to a drug store. But have Peru-na on hand—accept no substitute.

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the affections of childhood are catarrh.

All forms of sore throat, quinsy, croup, hoarseness, laryngitis, etc., are but different phases of catarrh.

Mrs. Amelia Saller, Menasha, Wis., writes:

"I have used Peru-na for a number of years. It cured me of chronic catarrh which I suffered with from infancy."

"When my three children were born they all had catarrh, but I have given them Peru-na and find it very effective in ridding them of this horrible trouble. I find that it is also good to give them as a tonic and a preventative of colds and colic."

"In fact, I consider it a household blessing. I would not know how to raise my children without it. I am pleased to give it my recommendation."—Amelia Saller.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets Better than a Doctor's Prescription.

Mr. J. W. Turner, of Truhart, Va., says that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done him more good than anything he could get from the doctor. If any physician in this country was able to compound a medicine that would produce such gratifying results in cases of stomach troubles, biliousness or constipation, his whole time would be used in preparing this one medicine.
